Subject: Obtaining Services from Vectrix in Dallas

I would like to employ the services of Vectrix Corporation to expedite the next release of Media Cast 3.0 in support of the Blockbuster/RBOC.net roll-outs.

Vectrix is the company Bill Collins exited to. Jim Irvine and Shawna Meyer now both work for that company. In a private meeting with the two of them on Friday, they assured me that they separately sought Bill out and that he did not solicit them. I heard that Kevin G. may be interested in equity as well.

If there are no objections, I would like to have them into the Houston office Tuesday to review their capabilities and assess putting them on a Professional Service Agreement prior to having them respond to a competitive RFI. World Streaming Networks would fall under the same treatment.

Vectrix provides the following Internet enabling services - the one's asterisked are very valuable to the aforementioned effort:

- Creative Services
- Website Design
- *E-Commerce - transaction processing/clearing, etc.
- Marketing
- Sports Marketing
- Multimedia
- Broadband Media
- *Transactions
- Case Studies
- *Custom Developed Software
- Network Services
- Systems Integration
- Network Security
